MRS. MINNIE ELLIOT and Lucy Van Winkle, of Kirksville, were at Mr. Joe Severance's this week.

THE beautiful and captivating Miss May Ferguson, of Covington, is the guest of Miss Daisy Burnside.

MR. AND MRS. A. E. HUNDLEY, of Boyle, were up on a visit to Mr. George McAllister and took in the hop.

MR. A. T. WARD, of Talladega, Ala., is here for the purpose of taking to his home his brother-in-law, Mr. Curtis Gover, who has been ill for a long time.

MR. SAM H. WESTERFIELD and Miss Susie, sister of Editor John A. Bower, of Parkville, were married last week.

MR. A. C. SPAN, received from his house, G. Elias & Bro., of Buffalo, N. Y., a gold-handled, silk umbrella in testimony of their good will and appreciation.

WE are again under obligations to those clever and obliging gentlemen, Messrs. Charles W. Greer and Morris J. Steele, for timely assistance on a troublesome engine.

MR. W. H. HIGGINS presented to his salesmen, Messrs. John Bright, Jr., and Walker B. McKinney, a gold-headed cane each in token of his appreciation of their work.

HON. T. P. HILL, Jr., stole off so quietly Sunday night to his lucrative office with the Register of Vacant Lands in Kansas that we were not aware of it for a day or two. We wish him great success.

OUR very obliging correspondent at Mt. Vernon, Mr. T. N. Roberts, has gone into business at Barboursville, hence no letter from Rockcastle. We know he will find plenty of friends and hope his tiller will soon overflow with money.

HON. G. A. LACKEY returned with his son, Sam C. Lackey, from Dallas, Texas, a few days ago. Sam had been ill for some time of the dengue fever, a malady peculiar to Texas, and this seems to have effected his brain, rendering him slightly and at times delirious. His condition was but little improved yesterday.

THERE have been two promotions in the L. & N. railroad circles that are very gratifying to their friends. Mr. W. M. Bogle has been given the agency at Jellico, one of the best paying on the road and Mr. W. C. Wherritt, his late assistant, succeeds him as agent at Rowland. The only point of regret is that the change takes from our midst the first named and his most excellent wife.

GEO. D. WEAREN has bought of J. W. McAllister the building in which he now lives, including the Higgins store room, for $4,500.

THE supper given by the ladies of the new church near Eggleman's Store was a success both financially and otherwise. They took in about $50, about $40 of it being net.

HOUSTON, TEX., contemplates a repeal of its charter in order to avoid the payment of certain outstanding bonds. The present prospect is that Stanford will have to do the same thing.

MR. D. A. TWADDLE was here yesterday and told us that the telegrams sent to the Louisville papers connecting him with the death of Mr. Clarkson are malicious lies and that he intends to make it hot for somebody.

THREE days of drizzle and freeze has rendered the streets as slick as glass and exceedingly dangerous to pedestrians. We have heard of no serious accidents yet, but expect to chronicle not a few if this state of affairs continues.

THE officers elected for the next term of Stanford Lodge No. 156, I. O. O. F., Tuesday night, are: W. B. Holderman, W. G. C. M. Samuels, V. G.; Peter Hamton, sec.; N. B. Elmore, treas.; trustees W. and O. Ford, Wm. Daugherty, A. C. Sine, J. B. Paxton.

FRANK CLEM, who has been in jail here for some time charged with murder in Harlan county, was released this week on an $8,000 bond furnished by his friends in that county. Murder is not bailable, but these mountain judges are not strict law constructionists. The county judge is responsible for this release.

IN a dispute over an account between Capt. W. J. Kinnaird and R. C. Bradley at Lancaster, Bradley rushed at Kinnaird with a drawn knife, while the latter defended himself with a poker. Kinnaird was cut in the throat, though not seriously, and Bradley received two severe gashes on his head. Both are out and going around.

SHERIFF MENEFFEE sold the store of Auden Bridgewater, at Millersburg, this week under an execution for a little over $400. He also sold 100 barrels of corn for him at $1.70 in the crib. Bridgewater has been living a quiet and apparently honorable life since his days of daring robberies past, and it is a pity he meets with such reverses in his old age.

W. H. HIGGINS can still be found on the corner of Main and Depot street, and shall be glad to have his friends remember him in their future purchases as they have done in the past, especially his prompt paying customers, and those who have not been meeting their obligations with him he very kindly asks them to call and pay up if they wish him to extend their credit, otherwise they will be refused.

OUR BANKS.—The earnings of the First National Bank from its discounts, interest and exchange is $13,000, from the sale of 4 1/2 per cent. bonds is $8,140, making the total earnings $21,200. Its board of directors will not meet until to day, but it is understood that they will declare the usual dividend of 3 per cent. and carry the balance to the surplus fund. The Farmers National declared a dividend of 4 per cent. as usual and after paying current expenses placed $1,400 to the credit of its surplus account.

THE supper for the benefit of the Gold and Silver Band was both comprehensive in variety and excellent in quality. The rooms were gracefully hung in evergreens, sent by Manager Campbell of the Rock Castle Springs Co., and the menu cards, real gems of art, were also furnished by the appreciative firm. The boys are very thankful to the ladies who superintended the supper and to those who were kind enough to contribute to it. The neat little sum of $95.60 was realized, a great portion of which is net.

A YOUNG man unacquainted in town, took a lady, who was on a visit here, to the hop Tuesday night, but didn't take her back to her friends next morning by several houses. Mistaking the house of Steve Myers for the one he was looking for, he deposited the little beauty there and rung the bell. Receiving the answer "I'll be there in a minute," the young man left his charge and returned to his hotel. Frightened at a call at that unseemly hour, Steve hastened to the door without so much as drawing on his pantaloons. The young lady was inexpressibly shocked at the undressed figure, but managed to stammer out her name and the place she was seeking. Steve gallantly sought his apparel and accompanied her there, and the young man did not find out the trouble he had gotten her into till next day.

—Eph. Pennington has sold 7 stacks of hay at 50 cents per cwt.

—Andrew Davidson, an old and highly respected citizen of Louisville, is dead.

—Burglars chloroformed the family of A. M. White, a leading farmer of Madison county, and stole $100 and a diamond ring, besides making way with a Christmas turkey, a duck and the family bowl of eggs.

THE Merry Bachelors' Hop at the Opera House, Tuesday night, was the largest and most successful social event of the kind ever witnessed here, and everything passed off most creditably and satisfactorily to those in charge. Forty-eight couples, 96 people, joined in the first dances, and the scene presented was one of entrancing loveliness, for never did handsomer or more becomingly dressed ladies or more gallant gentlemen honor such an occasion. The music furnished by Siebert, of Louisville, was in splendid time, the floor committee was untiring in its efforts and everything was done to contribute to the enjoyment of the guests, all of whom expressed themselves as delighted. The entire 28 dances were danced and it was 4 o'clock before the last happy couple reluctantly departed from the joyful scene. The names of the ladies and their costumes are as follows:
